Charles B. Dodson Passes Away at Virginia Hospital After Long Illness.

Charles B. Dodson, for years day clerk at the Lexington Hotel in this city, and all of his life identified with hosteleries in Richmond, died yesterday afternoon at 5:15 at the Virginia Hospital, after four months' illness. The funeral services will be held at the grave in Hollywood this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Dodson was the son of John S. Dodson, who was at one time proprietor of the old American Hotel, now the Lexington. He was at one period proprietor of the St. James Hotel, on Twelfth Street, later known as the Dodson Hotel. For the past two years he had lived in Norfolk, where he was connected with the Fairfax Hotel. Few men in the State were better known to the traveling public.

His son, Charles B. Dodson, Jr., lives in Portsmouth. Two sisters in Richmond survive him—Mrs. Peyton Grymes and Mrs. R. M. Dillard.

MANY WOULD PLAN FOR BATTLE ABBEY

Architects Much Interested in Competition—Method of Procedure.

Applications for the program adopted by the executive committee of the Confederate Memorial Association, relative to the submitting of designs for the Confederate Memorial Institute, or "Battle Abbey," have come from every section of the United States, from Canada and from England. It seems certain that the committee will be enabled to select from among the world's greatest architects the firm which will be employed to furnish the designs for the institute.

A competition in the matter of plans has been arranged by the committee, of which Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson is chairman, which has been approved by the proper committee of the American Institute of Architects. About 250 programs have been sent out, but no more will be sent after to-day.

By October 15 those who desire to compete for the cash prizes of from $200 to $1,000, must notify the committee. When the architects selected to compete are chosen, they will be notified to send their designs, with a description to each of not more than 1,500 words, to Mayor David C. Richmond. This is to be done not later than December 22 of this year.

The committee will take the designs and examine them, the Mayor in the meantime retaining the names of the architects. In this way the committee will not know the author of any individual design. Prizes will be awarded in this manner.

It is expected that some design will be finally adopted not later than February 1, 1911, and that bids on the actual construction can then be advertised.

POLICE CHANGES TO-DAY

Sergeant Whitlock Returns to Rank at Own Request.

According to a change made by the Board of Police Commissioners at its own request, Sergeant W. B. Whitlock of the First District, where he has been doing duty as a desk sergeant, will to-day return to the ranks and be assigned as special messenger at headquarters. Sergeant R. B. Sewell, who has been doing street duty, is assigned to duty at the desk.

Sergeant Whitlock requested that he be assigned to less arduous duties owing to disabilities brought on by several severe attacks of illness.

District Attorney Reviewing Papers in Motor-Bomb Case.

United States District Attorney L. L. Lewis is investigating the papers in connection with the firing of several motor-boat owners by the customs officials several weeks ago on charges of not providing the signals required by law. Each was fined $100, but an appeal was taken to the department in Washington.

All papers in the cases have been forwarded to District Attorney Lewis by the Department of Commerce and Labor for his recommendation. It will not be known for some time what the result of the investigation will be.

Many Cases for Grand Jury.
 The grand jury for the Hastings Court has been summoned, and will convene Monday morning at 11 o'clock. There are many cases for its attention.

BRONZE TROPHY FOR OLD GUARD

Ancient Infantry Company Celebrates Thirty-ninth Anniversary.

Presentation to three trustees of a bronze trophy, to be competed for under their direction by the various militia organizations of the State, was the feature of the anniversary celebration of Company C, First Virginia Infantry, held last night at the Seventh Street Armory.

The committee named is composed of General Charles J. Anderson, Colonel Joseph V. Biddgood and Captain George P. Shackelford, all former commanders of the company. The trophy was turned over to them by Major L. T. Price, at the request of Captain Charles M. Wallace, the present company commander, and the trust was accepted by Colonel Biddgood.

Captain Wallace presided at the celebration. All manner of good things to eat and drink were served. Captain George N. Skipwith, still another former company commander, was called upon as the orator of the occasion, at which designation he protested.

Captain Skipwith reviewed the history of the "Guard of the Commonwealth," a company which has been known through the thirty-nine years of its existence. He told of the 400 or 500 men who have been members during that time, and commented on the fact that only about 100 of them are remembered as having added honor to the company.

"Where are the rest of them?" he asked. "They were merely flesh passing in and out of the company room, and being heard of no more. They forgot that to be a good soldier it is necessary to be first a good man. Are you members of the company, or are you doing something to make you remembered in the years to come as a faithful company member?"

Colonel Biddgood, in his remarks, told how the "Guard of the Commonwealth" was organized to protect white men's rights in Richmond and in Virginia. He has succeeded by Captain Shackelford, who is a favorite with the command.

Officers of other First Regiment companies were present as guests, and were called upon for some remarks. Among these was Captain Giles B. Cook, the regimental surgeon.

Special Officers Sworn In.
 The sixteen special officers appointed by the Board of Police Commissioners to do duty in the city during Fair week, were sworn in yesterday afternoon by City Clerk Ben August.

John G. Sims Makes Attack on His Family Physician.

MAY HAVE BEEN SANDBAGGED

Drew $1,000 From Bank—Had $1.68 When Arrested.

Charged with threatening to kill his family physician, Dr. W. G. Young, John G. Sims, formerly of this city, now superintendent for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia in Washington, was yesterday arrested, placed in a straight-jacket and taken to the Washington Asylum Hospital, where he is being held for examination. According to a telegram from Washington, Sims entered the office of Dr. Young, drew a revolver and threatened to kill the physician and others nearby. Dr. Young and others who arrived and took him to the hospital.

The Washington police are inclined to think that Sims' sudden spell was due to a blow on the head rather than a defect of mind, as it is known that early in the day he had at least $1,000 on his person, and at the time he was taken by the police he had but $1.68. The theory is that he was sandbagged and robbed before he attempted to attack Dr. Young.

Formerly Worked Here.
 Before he was transferred to Washington, Mr. Sims worked for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia in the city of years in this city, and was considered one of its most valued employees.

According to a statement made last night by A. S. Hurt, auditor for the company, the position of superintendent of the Washington office was given him as a promotion, and had proved most satisfactory. Mr. Hurt was convinced that it was the result of foul play. Officers of the company had not been notified up to a late hour last night. Sims had lately been allowed a vacation.

Following is a special dispatch from Washington received last night: "When Sims left home this morning preparatory to going on a visit to Richmond with his wife, he drew from the bank about $1,000, and when taken in hand by the police he had but $1.68 on his person. Police officials are of the opinion that between the time he left the bank and reached the office of Dr. Young he was robbed.

Physician's Statement.
 "Sims is one of the best known men in Washington, and has an excellent reputation. Dr. Young stated tonight that he could assign no reason for this strange action other than that Sims had suddenly become demented, and, acting as many persons do under similar circumstances, drew his pistol in a half-maddened condition ready to kill any one who interfered.

To-morrow a thorough examination will be made of Sims' physical condition, and, at the same time, investigation made as to whether he was robbed, and whether such robbery, if, in fact, one occurred, is the cause of his sudden demerence."

SEEKS HEAVY DAMAGES

Employee, Injured While Operating Grindstone, Sues Iron Works.

Trial of the suit of Joseph E. Patterson against the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works for damages to the amount of $20,000 was begun in the Law and Equity Court yesterday morning.

Patterson, who is a minor, sued through his father. He was last week injured by the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works in the horseshoe department, where his duties were to operate grindstones for maintaining the shoes.

In his declaration it is asserted that owing to the lack of safety devices and the defective condition of one of the grinders, his hands were caught in the machinery and permanently maimed.

The case will go to the jury to-day.

BANKS MERGE TO-DAY

Capital Savings Bank Identified With Bank of Commerce and Trusts.

Assuming the name of the Bank of Commerce and Trusts, the Bank of Capital Savings Bank will to-day merge with the Capital Savings Bank, which is a part of the other institution. The consolidated bank will do business at the banking house of the Capital Savings Bank, in the Mutual Building.

The merger was approved yesterday by the State Corporation Commission upon the production of the necessary papers. The charter of the Capital Savings Bank was not surrendered, but the concern will not do business as a separate institution.

Robert M. Kent is the cashier of the consolidated institution. The board of directors yesterday elected Robert B. Campbell assistant cashier and assistant secretary.

Chance for Lawyers.
 Bright young attorneys will have an opportunity to secure positions as law examiners in the Bureau of Mines, as they will pass an examination to be held at the Federal Building in Richmond on October 10. The salary is from $2,000 to $3,000 per year.

CAR LINE DOWN MILES RAIN

Richmond and Henrico Company Changes Its Route in East End.

GOES OUT MARSHALL STREET

New Plan Indorsed by Street Committee Crosses Southern Tracks at Grade.

With very little comment, the special committee on Streets, in the Council session last night, passed favorably the ordinance allowing the Richmond and Henrico Railway Company to change its proposed route from Thirty-first and Marshall Streets to Thirty-first and Spring Streets. In the opinion of members of the subcommittee appointed for the purpose of looking into the company's request, the new route is preferable. The company agrees in the ordinance to allow the city to extend Broad and Marshall Streets through its property free of any cost, and to maintain such bridges as it has to build by reason of the new tracks to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets.

Councilman Sullivan wanted incorporated in the ordinance a memorandum of the land through which the right of way goes. There was opposition to this, it being held that the ordinance as it stood was binding enough. Mr. Lynch thought it was a case of "splitting hairs." The motion was lost.

Through Miles Ravine.
 From Thirty-first Street, the new route runs along Marshall Street to Thirty-first Street. Leaving the street there, it runs over the Miles and Good roads, crosses the Government Road at grade, and on to Spring Street. On Spring Street it continues to Nicholson Street, where the line of the road is prescribed in the original franchise.

The original franchise granted by the City Council in 1902 provided that the road, starting at Thirty-first and Marshall Streets, should go down Thirty-first to Grace Street, thence around the southern portion of Chalmers Park on a grade to the Williamsburg Road, where the loop would begin.

Crosses Tracks at Grade.
 While in a general way the new route will be much more satisfactory than the old, it is pointed out that if the new route is granted by the Council, there will be two grade crossings, one over the Government Road, and another over the West Point branch of the Southern Railway.

The committee appointed a subcommittee, consisting of Messrs. Vonderlehr, Bliley and Davis, for the purpose of arranging for gravel for the streets.

Police Court Cases.
 Major Callahan, colored, was fined $10 in Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, and Robert Thomas, colored, charged with assaulting Callahan, was fined $20. Thomas appeared.

The Richmond Motor Company, charged with running an automobile without proper license, was fined $10 and appealed on bail furnished by T. H. Elliott.

L. M. Sutton, charged with running an unlighted automobile, was fined $10.

Marriage License.

A marriage license was issued yesterday in the Hastings Court to John Jennings Parker and Lottie Price Wilmoth.

LICENSE TAXES AGAINST BRIDGE

City Asked to Pay Seven Years' Fees to Corporation Commission.

Under a ruling by the State Corporation Commission, demand has been made upon the James River Bridge Company, the owner of what is known as the Free Bridge, now belonging to Richmond, for the payment of $175 as a franchise tax on the concern at the rate of $25 a year for the past seven years.

This means that this concern is caught in the annual dragnet of corporations which have not made a report to the commission. It is one of between 600 and 700 concerns against which similar action has been taken.

As to Richmond's ownership of the bridge, this is a matter for proof, the corporation failed to make its reports as required by law, and there is nothing official to show that it is not private property. Besides, a charge has during these years been made to the Virginia Railway and Power Company for the privilege of maintaining the bridge and running its cars over the bridge, amounting to $1,000 a year.

Only recently the property passed formally into the hands of the city of Richmond, although previously it had been under control of a commission representing the cities of Richmond and Manchester, Chesterfield county, also, had a hand in its upkeep.

It is regarded as quite possible that Richmond may resist the payment of the tax. A good many corporations do this every year, and escape on some law point or other.

Wants Wireless Operators.

Uncle Sam desires several wireless telegraph operators for the Federal Building in the Twelfth Light House District of Hawaii. An examination will be conducted by the United States Civil Service Commission at the Federal Building in Richmond, October 19. The salary for these lighthouse operators is $75 per month. Further information may be obtained by communicating with W. H. Ham, local secretary, at the post-office.

Car Crew Acquitted.
 A corner's jury yesterday morning acquitted the crew of an Oakwood and Third Street car of killing Charles Clarke, a thirteen-year-old colored boy. It was proved that the boy was stealing a ride on a westbound car, and that when detected, he jumped off and ran directly in front of an eastbound car. The accident occurred Wednesday night at Twenty-second and Venable Streets.

But for his lack of a motor, G. W. Bebout, of Chestnut Hill, might out-ride Ralph Johnson in the matter of flying next week, for he has invented and built an aeroplane which has demonstrated its ability to fly and carry a man above the tawny earth. But not yet, for Mr. Bebout must first build a purchase a suitable motor, and gain his machine was badly smashed when it made its first attempt over the race course at the Fair Grounds. The aeroplane was hatched on to a car, and the car was put to its best use. As the four-wheeled flyer raced up the course the aeroplane took to the air as a duck takes to water.

The machine was not smashed and had there been a motor which could have been fitted, Bebout and Johnson might have appeared as formidable rivals against the representative of the Wright brothers, and the world might have hailed a new hero and a new record. There is time yet, for Mr. Bebout will proceed with his invention now which he repaired in the time he waited for the motor. So doubting Thomases might hold off the interogation point for a little while and wait for the period of accomplishment or defeat when either come.

Booth Arranged Where Noted Women Will Address Visitors.

Woman suffrage discussions will be among the features of the fair. The members of the Richmond League will have a booth at the grounds, and the air addresses will be delivered by prominent women speakers. Among them is Miss Florence Luscomb, of Allston, who will arrive in Richmond on Monday, and give a suffrage talk at the booth that afternoon. Miss Luscomb is a college graduate of distinction, and has the reputation of being a most attractive and eloquent speaker. Miss Luscomb and her mother will be at the Jefferson during their stay in Richmond.

Another announcement of interest to suffragettes is that the Norfolk Branch of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia, under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Adams, has invited Dr. Anna Howard Shaw to lecture in the auditorium of the Women's Club in Norfolk, on November 17. Dr. Shaw will also visit Richmond, and will lecture here in the Jefferson auditorium.

KOREAN STUDENT VISITS RICHMOND

American Missionary, Who Has Spent Eighteen Years in East, on Furlough.

Rev. W. D. Reynolds, D. D., and Mrs. Reynolds are in Richmond on their second visit home from Korea in eighteen years. They arrived yesterday, accompanied by their three children, and while here will be the guests of Mrs. Reynolds' aunt, Mrs. Rosser, of 718 East Clay Street. Mrs. Reynolds was Miss Patsy Bolling, of Richmond.

Dr. Reynolds is one of the foremost American missionaries, and his labors in the Far East have been crowned with success. He was one of the first to enter that field. Dr. Reynolds is an intelligent observer of political conditions in Korea, which has lately and the eyes of the world turned to it by reason of its annexation by Japan. He has the distinction of having been an active member of the committee which translated the Bible into the Korean language. He was sent out by the Southern Presbyterian Church.

This is Dr. and Mrs. Reynolds' first visit to this country in ten years. They will remain here until the middle of next summer, leaving in time to reach Korea by September. When the next missionary conference will be held in Richmond during their stay, Dr. Reynolds will be heard in local pulpits.

NO NEW BUILDING

First National to Return to Old Home as Soon as Repaired.

Reports that the management of the First National Bank would erect a large office building on the site of the present structure, which was damaged last Tuesday night, were denied yesterday by President John B. Purcell. Colonel Purcell stated that assurances had been received from the contractors that as soon as possible the bank would be able to occupy the new building, and that whenever the building was pronounced safe and complete, the bank would return to its old quarters.

There has been quite a good deal of talk recently about the erection of a new building, and since the cave-in, it has been more than likely that some members of the directorate have suggested that this would be the best time to commence on the new structure. As a matter of fact, however, the question of a new building has not been formally placed before the board of directors, and according to the president, the institution will continue in the old building for some time to come.

Charged With Arson.
 Immediately after he had been dismissed of the charge of failing to support his wife and two children, Charles Payne, colored, was arrested in Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of arson. It is alleged that the negro set fire to a house on Jackson Ward on July 12 in order to recover the insurance on it. He was sent to the Second Police Station.

building, and a short account of it appeared in The Times-Dispatch some months ago. But then it had not attempted to fly, and it could not be determined whether it would ever fly. The Richmond aeroplane seems to be a sort of combination of all the others which have been invented, and which have proven their ability. It carries an equalizing device on each side, and the lifting plane and the motor propeller, if there were one, are to be carried in front. It is about thirty feet in length, and weighs about 1,000 pounds.

May Yet Make Records.
 Had the machine not been smashed and had there been a motor which could have been fitted, Bebout and Johnson might have appeared as formidable rivals against the representative of the Wright brothers, and the world might have hailed a new hero and a new record. There is time yet, for Mr. Bebout will proceed with his invention now which he repaired in the time he waited for the motor. So doubting Thomases might hold off the interogation point for a little while and wait for the period of accomplishment or defeat when either come.

WILL NOT TAKE BACK OLD MEN

Market Committee Stands by Its Action in Discharging Sweepers.

The Council Committee on Markets last night refused to reinstate several employees of the First Market who were discharged for neglecting their work several weeks ago by the old committee. At the request of William O. Connor, Jerry Titmus and W. J. Dodd, among those removed, the matter was postponed.

The three former employees submitted a petition signed by thirty or forty stall-keepers at the market, testifying to their sober and reliable habits. Clerk Sullivan, of the First Market, also presented a letter of commendation for Connor, Titmus and Dodd.

H. J. Cohn, Superintendent of Street Cleaning, and Councilman Hirschberg, formerly a member of the Markets Committee, who preferred charges against the men which resulted in their removal, reiterated their former statements. It was charged that nearly all the sweepers at the First Market were drunk on several occasions and that they had neglected their work.

Were in Bad Company.
 It was charged that J. J. Dodd, the foreman, or Connor or Titmus were drunk, but that they were in bad company and aided and abetted in the misconduct of the others. On the night that Councilman Hirschberg visited the market and caught several employees drunk, Connor was not there, having sent a substitute. Dodd was there, and was not accused of being drunk, but of employing those who did drink and who did not attend to their duties. Titmus was not charged with being drunk that time either.

The three men appealed to the committee to reinstate them because they believed they had been unfairly treated. All denied they had been drunk while on duty at the market. Dodd said he could not get sober men at 10 or 11 o'clock at night; therefore he had to hire "drunks." The committee declined to rescind the action of the former Committee on Markets.

Because the chairman and the sub-chairman were both from Clay Ward, Clarence A. Seaton, subchairman of the Markets Committee, resigned last night. Mr. Seaton explained that he and Mr. Don Leavy are from the same ward, and he felt that a member from some other ward should fill the position. Councilman George M. Cease, of Monroe Ward, was elected subchairman.

Scales Condemned.
 T. W. Joseph, Inspector of Weights and Measures, appeared before the committee and notified it that the city's public scales in Washington Ward have been condemned and closed. He recommended that they be repaired if they are to be continued in use. The committee will investigate the matter.
